Tavern Held Up; Gunman Gets $3,300

Stone's Bar Operator Robbed Shortly After Opening for Business

An armed robber held up the manager of Stone's Grill at 125 S. Main St. at about 5:30 a.m. today and escaped with some $3,300 in small denomination currency.

Police were called to the grill at 5:37 a.m. by Ralph Jones of the Twin Oaks Trailer Park, the manager, who said the neatly dressed robber had just held him up.

Walks In Side Door

Mr. Jones said that he was standing at the front of the tavern making coffee after opening for the day when the robber came in a side door, walked to the front and said, "This is a stick-up."

The robber was armed with a .32 caliber pistol and after checking each of the three empty cash registers in the restaurant ordered Mr. Jones into the back room and directed him to open the safe, Mr. Jones told police.

Taking a cloth sack filled with money, the robber left Mr. Jones in the back room and walked out, Mr. Jones said.

Hears Car in Alley

After waiting a short time, Mr. Jones said he heard a car go west through the alley beside the building and then he went to a telephone and called the police.

Other witnesses in the area about the same time said they saw no one around the tavern before or after the robbery but one witness said he did see a small gray-colored car speed through the east-west alley about the time of the hold-up.

Mr. Jones said the robber was about 40 years old, was 5-feet, 11-inches tall and weighed about 170 pounds. He also had dark hair and was wearing a tan suit, white shirt and tie and had on a tan or gray hat, Mr. Jones told police.

Police Chief Justin Cornely said today that police are investigating but that no trace of the robber has been found.

Denies It Has Jurisdiction Over Matter

Americans Held After Helicopter Is Forced Down Inside Satellite

BERLIN (AP)—Russia refused today to take responsibility for the nine U.S. Army men taken prisoner by the East German Communists Saturday when their helicopter made a forced landing inside the satellite.

Keeping up its campaign to force Western recognition of the puppet Communist government, the Russian embassy in East Berlin declared that the East German regime has jurisdiction over the American prisoners and their aircraft because the helicopter came down outside the three Allied air corridors to West Berlin.

Russia guarantees free Allied air traffic through these corridors under a 1949 Big Four agreement.

The Soviet embassy statement indicated the United States and Russia were heading into a big diplomatic wrangle over the nine Americans.

The Russian statement was in response to a newsman's question whether Russia or East Germany had juridiction over the Americans.

Earlier the East German government claimed it has the right to say what will be done with the helicopter and those aboard it.

A Russian Embassy spokesman said the nine Americans were being held by "responsible organs of the German Democratic Republic." He said all were well and none was injured when the helicopter came down.

Asked about rumors they had been moved from the frontier area to East Berlin, the spokesman said he thought this unlikely.

One Resided Here

One of the nine Army men taken prisoner in East Germany was identified as Capt. Paul E. Jones, 36, of Corpus Christi Texas, and formerly of Cleveland and Marion, The Associated Press reported today.

Newsmen in Cleveland said his last address before moving there was 333 Columbia St. in Marion. A check in Marion early this afternoon failed to reveal anyone with knowledge of him, however.

Accepts Firm's Offer

Machinists Union Ends Long Strike

The International Association of Machinists union, Local 1281, ended its six-week strike against Marion Metal Products Co. today after ratifying a company contract offer at a membershhip meeting Sunday.

Some 200 workers who were affected by the strike reported to their jobs today at regular shift times, the company said.

In a joint statement released today, the union and management said agreement was reached on contract terms which will remain in effect until April 28, 1959. Details of the settlement were not disclosed.

The company's latest offer was extended to union representatives at a negotiating meeting conducted Thursday by Irwin Gerard, federal mediator from Columbus. It was the first time during negotiations that a company offer was submitted to a union membership vote.

G. E. Herr, president and general manager of the company, said today that no other details would be announced on the agreement until after contracts actually are signed at a later date.

Wages and fringe benefits were at issue when the Metal Products Co. working force walked off their jobs on April 28.

Briton Asks For Firmer Trade Links

Macmillan Planning Talk With Ike, Dulles After Visit in Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)— British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan appealed Sunday for closer economic ties between his country and the United States.

In a nationally televised commencement address at DePauw University at Greencastle, Ind., the Prime Minister said, "There are still too many artificial barriers to the free flow of money and trade in the free world."

Now that "we all face a common danger," Macmillan said, interdependence must be the "keynote of the second half of the 20th century if the progress of humanity is to continue."

The Prime Minister left Indianapolis in his chartered Britannia prop-jet plane today for Washington and talks with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

He was scheduled to confer with the President and Dulles after lunch at the British Embassy.

He will accompany Eisenhower by helicopter to Johns Hopkins University Tuesday to receive an honorary degree and make the commencement address.

The British chief of state made a plea Sunday for closer economic ties between his country and the United States in a nationally televised commencement speech at DePauw University in Greencastle, Ind.

"There are still too many artificial barriers to the free flow of money and trade in the free world," Macmillan said.

In a 21-hour sweep through Indiana official and social affairs, Macmillan emphasized these things:

1. He considers Gen. Charles de Gaulle, France's new premier, a friend and hopes France will solve many of its problems under De Gaulle's leadership.

2. "Prosperity is not indivisible; there are too many artificial barriers to the free flow of money and trade in the free world."

3. Russians are "very intelligent people (who) will not be content forever with what is called the materialistic doctrine."

4. "In the long run, the free world will defend itself and win adherence to itself because our way of life gives a better way of living, a fuller life to the individual, security and hope."

Crowley Held, Faces Trial in Tokyo Courts

Brother-in-Law Cited After Fatal Beating of T. A. D. Jones in Hotel

TOKYO (AP)—Joseph P. Crowley of New Haven, Conn., was indicted today for the death of his brother-in-law and partner, T. A. D. Jones Jr.

The indictment accused the burly, 48-year-old ex-halfback of beating Jones while under the influence of alcohol.

Crowley was charged specifically with "inflicting bodily injuries resulting in death," roughly equivalent to manslaughter in America.

Tokyo Chief Prosecutor Kenjiro Furukawa presented the indictment to the Tokyo District Court. Under Japanese procedure the court sets a date for trial before three judges. There is no jury.

Trials normally extend over many months.

The charge is the same as that on which GI William S. Girard was convicted for killing a Japanese brass scavenger on an Army firing range. Conviction can carry a sentence of 2 to 15 years in prison. Girard got a three-year suspended sentence.

Rev. J. A. Geiger Speaks

49 Seniors at Catholic High Receive Diplomas

"Education not only has prepared you to take your place as citizens in life, but as children of God, striving toward the lofty goal of Heaven," the Rev. James A. Geiger, professor of philosophy at St. Charles Seminary in Columbus, told a graduating class of 49 Marion Catholic High School students Sunday afternoon during commencement exercises at St. Mary Church.

Speaking before nearly 500 persons in the crowded church he explained that education can fulfill its purpose only when it prepares man for temporal life and eternal life in Heaven.

HAVING HAD this preparation, "you are now adjudged ready to step into the world as adult members of society," the speaker said. He cited this step as the "beginning of a new life."

He urged graduates to show their gratitude for the education they have received by putting their knowledge into practice through daily experiences in their new life. "If you do this," he said, "the appreciation for your great educational privilege will be evident."

STRESSING the importance of revering their education, the Rev. Fr. Geiger told students many sacrifices have been made that they might learn. "Teachers have dedicated their lives to mold you in the image of the divine son of God."

Citizens of the community—Catholic, Protestant and Jewish—have donated money to make the new high school a realization, he continued.

Urging students to realize the meaning of their education, the priest said it was made possible only by the cooperation of three societies — family, state and church.

In concluding his address, the Rev. Fr. Geiger told seniors: "God grant that you may so live to receive your just reward at the end of a long life."

Presentation of diplomas was made by the Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, pastor of St. Mary Church and school head. Students recognized for general excellence

Actress' Face Unmarked in Auto Accident

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Suzy Parker's physician says the 25-year-old actress is still a very beautiful girl despite injuries in a train-auto crash. Two arms were broken but her face was unmarked in the accident Saturday night.

The crash killed her father.

Miss Parker was admitted to the hospital under the name of Mrs. Pierre LaSalle of New York City. It was the first public disclosure that she was married.

LaSalle arrived in St. Augustine from New York last night to be at her side. Newsmen could not reach him for comment. A member of the family declined to say how long they had been married.

The accident occurred when Miss Parker and her father, George Lofton Parker, 60, were driving to Jacksonville after visiting her mother in the hospital

U.S. 6th Fleet Practicing for Rescue Work

WITH U.S. 6TH FLEET, Off Dikili, Turkey (AP)—Major units of this mighty Mediterranean fleet assembled off the Turkish coast today to train in rescuing Americans from the turbulent countries of the Middle East.

The heavily armed amphibious force of Marines, backed up by sailors and naval airmen, are practicing for duty they might face at any moment.

Normal Strength Enlarged

If the crisis deepened in Lebanon, only 12 hours steaming to the south, the units could switch from training to the real thing. The fleet is currently reinforced by 18 ships over the usual 50 and by double the usual complement of 1,800 Marines.

At dawn, transports, warships and landing ships maneuvered around the Greek island off Lesbos for a landing near Dikili.

The amphibious task force was backed up by the cruiser Des Moines, the 6th Fleet's flagship, its sister ship the Salem and a screen of destroyers to give gunfire support.

Carriers Provide Cover

Farther out to sea lay the carriers Saratoga and Essex to lend air cover with nearly 200 planes —including jets capable of carrying nuclear bombs.

A third carrier, the Wasp, was part of the reinforcements.

One of the day's problems was to establish a beachhead on two miles of coast and control an area within a 25-mile radius by artillery, planes and gunfire.

After the exercise, the bulk of the fleet leaves for a visit to Greek and Turkish ports — still only about a day's forced sailing from smouldering Lebanon.

No Date Is Set By Probers on Quiz of Eaton

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Francis E. Walter (D - Pa) said today no date has been set for questioning of Cyrus S. Eaton by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

"The committee has not had a meeting to evaluate the material that has been assembled," Walter told a reporter.

The committee has announced that a subpoena for Eaton's appearance has been signed and issued but not served.

Walter said he had asked the staff to assemble material and evaluate statements the industrialist has made in the past.

In a recent television interview Eaton of Cleveland criticized the FBI, saying it was one of several governmental agencies engaged in "investigating, snooping and creeping up on people."

Walter said also he had been told that Eaton was planning a trip to Russia.

"I think perhaps he should leave our international affairs to the state department," Walter commented.

Marion Man Badly Hurt in Diving Mishap

A 21-year-old Marion man was listed in critical condition at University Hospital in Columbus this morning with a fractured neck sustained when he dived in Oceola Quarry early Saturday afternoon.

State patrolmen of the Bucyrus post reported this morning that the injured man, Bruce Metcalf, of 685 Davids St., was taken to Bucyrus Community Hospital following the accident about 3 p.m. and later that day was transferred to Columbus.

Hospital officials reported that Metcalf's injury has caused partial paralysis. Surgery is planned, but as yet has not been attempted due to the seriousness of his condition.

Metcalf and a group of Marion friends were swimming at the Oceola Quarry on Rt. 30-N, about five miles west of Bucyrus, when he dived in shallow water. His head struck the bottom of the quarry, patrolmen said.

According to neighbors, Metcalf's mother, Mrs. Don Metcalf, and grandmother, Mrs. Florence Lingrel, both of the Davids St. address, are at his bedside in Columbus. He is a draftsman for the General Telephone Co. of Ohio.

Car Taken by Escapees Is Discovered in Findlay

Secretary for 900,000 Minimum

Cut in Army Manpower Is Opposed by Brucker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Army Brucker said today he still feels the Army needs a minimum of 900,000 men, but he is bound by the decision of superiors not to resist a 30,000 cutback.

Brucker testified before a Senate appropriations subcommittee which is considering an unasked 99 million dollars to keep the Army at its present strength. The money was tacked on the Defense Department appropriations bill by the House.

Increases Sought

Under questioning by Chairman Dennis Chavez (D-NM), Brucker said the Army recommended to Secretary of Defense McElroy last September an increase in Army manpower to 925,000.

At that time, Brucker said, the Defense Department had tentatively ordered a cutback to 850,000 but on appeal McElroy agreed to fix the limit at 870,000 men.

Brucker said he and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, "are bound by the decision of our superiors." He added, "we've done all in our power."

Chavez reminded Brucker that he could express an opinion without bucking the decision.

Considering Money Bill

Brucker then told the senator: "I can say that we have seen nothing since last September to change the logic of our request. On the contrary, we see many things to corroborate our judgment. But, we are not here in any sense to upset the decision of our superiors."

The subcommittee is consider-

Answers U.S. Charges

Russian Envoy Denies Trying To Buy Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov says a junior Soviet diplomat denies trying to buy American military secrets. All Russians in this country, Menshikov says, are forbidden to do anything improper.

Menshikov told a TV panel that Nikolai I. Kurochkin, the Soviet Embassy's third secretary, has denied State Department charges that he sought to purchase secret military documents from Charles T. Beaumet, an American magazine writer.

"And I have no reason not to believe him," Menshikov said.

Kurochkin was ordered Saturday to leave the United States on grounds he paid hundreds of dollars for Army manuals and other materials and tried to get secret documents. He is expected to start for home later this week.

Beaumet, a 25-year-old magazine writer living in nearby Arlington, Va., said he never gave any classified information to the Russian. Beaumet said he furnished Kurochkin some non-secret material, part of which "was already in the papers." For this, Beaumet said, he received $435 over a period of months, starting last year.

Justice Department officials said Beaumet cooperated with government investigators after they questioned him about his transactions with Kurochkin. Officials said Beaumet since has registered as a foreign agent and that the department planned no action against him.

Kindergarten Enrollment in City Hits 607

Enrollment in the second annual public school summer kindergarten here has reached 607 students, Robert S. Brown, superintendent of schools, reported today. The kindergarten will open June 23.

This figure compares with an attendance tally of 514 last year. Registrations still may be made by telephoning the School Administration Building, 3-1116.

Mr. Brown noted that the increase in enrollment has resulted in organizing 25 classroom units, as compared to 22 last year. Length of the Safety Town program has been shortened to six days, rather than seven as was the case last summer.

The superintendent said, however, that youngsters will have the advantages of the full program since instruction will be more concentrated.

The program will run from June 23 to Aug. 15 with morning sessions Monday through Friday. July 4, however, will be a holiday.

Colavito Slugs Indians to Sweep Against Yankees

Slugging Exhibition Gives Tribe 14-1, 5-4 Decisions

NEW YORK (AP)—The "Rock" is rocking that ball again.

Born and raised in the Bronx, home of the New York Yankees, Rocky Colavito put on a slugging performance for the home folks Sunday that had the American League champions moaning.

The tall, powerful (6-foot-3, 185 pounds) right-handed batter blasted two home runs, a 450-foot triple and a double to drive in four runs as the Cleveland Indians whipped the Yankees in a double header, 14-1 and 5-4.

The opening game victory, first for the Tribe this season against the league leaders, was the worst drubbing of the year for the Yanks.

With his hitting splurge — four hits in nine trips—Colavito added strength to his contention he could hit 30 home runs this season if permitted to play regularly.

Asks Regular Action

Tired of being platooned in right field with Roger Maris, Colavito went to Bobby Bragan about two weeks ago and told the first year Tribe manager:

"If I play regularly, I'll hit 35 home runs. My record shows that I can do it when I play regularly."

"All right," said Bragan. "You're on."

Since he had missed several games already under the platooning arrangement, Colavito quickly explained to the manager he would hit 30 home runs during the remainder of the season.

Rocky's record in the 13 games he has played regularly since then is pretty convincing. He's been swinging at a .373 clip and has been held hitless only once. He has connected for 19 hits in 51 trips, including five home runs.

Kucks Loses Both

Johnny Kucks, Yankee right-hander, was a two-time loser in Sunday's doubleheader. He was knocked out in the first inning of the opener, when the Indians scored three runs, and was pitching in relief in the second game when Russ Nixon hit a sixth-inning home run that broke a tie and proved to be the winning marker.

Colavito led the Indians' 18-hit attack in the first game. The Tribe was aided by three errors in the Yankee outfield. With two men out in the third inning, Mickey Mantle dropped Preston Ward's fly to center field for a three-base error that opened the door for a five-run Cleveland rally.

The Yankees did not break through for a score off Ray Narleski until the seventh inning. The triumph was Narleski's seventh against four losses.

Colavito's two-run homer in the second inning of the nightcap gave Jim (Mudcat) Grant an early lead. The Indians added two more in the third on a double by Bob Avila, a triple by Roger Maris and a double by Ward.

Slaughter, Mantle Homer

Enos Slaughter hit his third homer of the year to give the Yankees a run in the second inning. The Yanks scored twice in the fourth on a homer by Mantle, a walk and two singles, and chased Grant in the fifth when they tied the score on two singles with a walk sandwiched between them.

Nixon's homer put the Indians back in the lead. Dick Tomanek, who took over for Grant, collected the victory.

The Indians open a four-game series at Baltimore tonight, with

Moore Sets Sights On New KO Mark

By The Associated Press

Ole Archie Moore makes another try for boxing's all-time knockout record at Sacramento, Calif., tonight.

The 41-year old light heavyweight champion meets heavyweight Howard King of Reno, Nev., in a non-title 10 rounder. This is the fourth time Archie has been matched against King. In the three previous meetings Moore had to settle for victories by decision. The last time they fought was at San Diego, May 17.

Moore is tied with the late Young Stribling, a heavyweight contender of the twenties and early thirties, in knockouts. Each has 126 kayos to his credit.

Bone Fracture Idles Tim Tam

By The Associated Press

Tim Tam, the Calumet Farm's Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner who suffered a bone break and lost the Belmont Stakes on Saturday, may be permanently retired from racing.

That was the opinion today as the flashy son of Tom Fool rested in his barn at Belmont Park, awaiting a final decision by trainer Jimmy Jones and owner Mrs. Gene Markey, who is in Europe.

In any event, the colt who was beaten 6 lengths by Irish-bred Cavan in the mile and one half race won't be seen on a racetrack for some months. Jones said X-rays of Timmy's right front leg disclosed a break in the sesamoid bone which is between the ankle and hoof.

Tim Tam's mishap, which may have cost Calumet its third triple crown and racing a chance to hail a ninth winner of the coveted Derby - Preakness - Belmont grand slam, was the highlight of an active day on the thoroughbred front.

Legion Team Wins Opener In 9-7 Battle

Marion's Junior American Legion baseball team pounded out a 9-7 victory over Mansfield Saturday night in its season opener at Lincoln Park.

A Sunday game against the Bucyrus Legion team was postponed due to rain.

Mansfield threatened to break the Saturday night game open in the first inning when it loaded the bases on a walk, a single and a Marion error with none out. A walk forced in the first run but Tom Prichard, Marion hurler, settled down to record three strikeouts and end the threat. The losers came back to take a 2-0 lead but Dave Kelly knotted the count with a two-run single in the second inning.

Marion moved ahead for keeps with four runs in the bottom of the fourth. Ken Coffae walked and after one batter was retired, Prichard laced out a long triple to break the ice for Marion. Gerald Bosh followed with another triple and Pete Porietis and Larry Ishida walked to load the bases. Then Joe Moore singled to left to drive in Bosh and Porietis for a 6-4 edge.

Three runs came home in Marion's fifth inning. Phil Reid opened the spurt with a single but was erased on a fielder's choice by Coffae. Vance Creviston tripled to drive in Coffae and Prichard was safe at first on a fielder's choice which scored Creviston. Prichard was nailed at second on a fielder's choice by Bosh and Porietis lined a single to center field. The ball got past the Mansfield centerfielder and Bosh came all the way home.

The visitors scored one in the sixth and one in the eighth to trail 9-4 at the start of the final frame. They pushed over three runs before Don Conkle, who relieved Prichard, in the eighth, was able to put down the threat.

Prichard gained credit for the win and struck out 13 in seven and one-third innings. Bosh, Porietis and Kelly all had two hits for the Marion nine. Those three represented the top third of the Marion batting order. Kelly, Moore and Prichard all had two runs batted in.

Reds Rap Giants

Lawrence Blanks Mays in 6-3 Clash

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) -- Bob Purkey, ace Cincinnati pitcher, goes to the mound against the league - leading San Francisco Giants today in search of his fifth straight win. Johnny Antonelli (5-3) will hurl for the Giants.

Purkey, despite his phenomenal 7-1 record, would probably like to learn something from teammate Brooks Lawrence—how to silence the booming bat of Willis Mays.

Purkey has not yet faced Mays, one of the National League's leading sluggers. But Lawrence pitched Cincinnati to a 6-3 victory over the Giants Sunday in which Mays hit into a double play, a force out, pop up and foul out in four times at bat.

Gives Up 8 Hits

In all, Lawrence gave up eight hits including a homer by Bob Schmidt—his eighth—with no one aboard in the seventh.

Smoky Burgess provided the victory margin by not so much as lifting a finger. With the score tied 3-3 and the bases loaded in the ninth, Smoky, a left-handed hitter, came into bat for Steve Bilko with a 2 and 2 count, Giant hurler Marv Grissom hit Smoky with a pitched ball, scoring Johnny Temple from third.

Don Hoak provided the two insurance runs with a single, scoring Jerry Lynch and Frank Robinson.

Cincinnati broke the ice in the first inning when Pete Whisenant singled, advanced to second when Bilko walked, took third on a wild pitch by Giant starter Mike McCormick and scored on Hoak's single.

Score 2 in 4th

In the fourth inning Cincinnati scored two more runs. With one away, Eddie Miksis and Roy McMillan both singled, Miksis taking third on McMillan's hit. Lawrence filled the bases when he was safe on a fielder's choice and Miksis sid safely back to third after McCormack's throw home.

A single by Temple scored Miksis and McMillan and sent McCormick to the showers. Paul Giel came in to pitch the Giants and worked his way out of trouble when Lynch hit in to a double play.

The Giants got back into the ball game with a two-run fifth inning. Schmidt's seventh-inning clout into the left field stands tied up the game, 3-3.

Jets Deadlock Toronto After Opening Loss

By The Associated Press

Many a team in the International League has gone all out to score runs. But rarely do you see a team try to give away runs to the extent where the umpire threatened to forfeit the game.

Such occurred in the Toronto Maple Leaf-Columbus Jets second game Sunday after the Maple Leafs balnked the Jets in the opener 5-0.

With a curfew of 7 p.m. in sight and the Jets in front 5-0 in the fourth, the Maple Leafs let every thing hit on the ground trickle through for hits. They had hopes of stalling long enough for the curfew to arrive before the last of the fifth.

When Mike Goliat fumbled, then kicked Spook Jacobs' grounder in the fourth, Umpire Augie Guglielmo threatened to forfeit the game to the Jets. The game continued and the Jets led 8-0 when the game was called after six innings. It will be completed at a later date.

The Miami Marlins and Rochester Wings swapped shutouts. The Marlins won 2-0 in the opener and the Red Wings the nightcap 1-0. The Montreal Royals split a pair with the Richmond Virginians, winning 4-3 in 10 innings and then losing 3 - 1. The Buffalo Bisons edged the Havana Sugar Kings 4-3 in a game cut short by rain.

Confident After Practice

Ben Hogan Shoots for 5th Crown in U.S. Open Race

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Confidence was the byword today as the nation's best golfers teed off in practice rounds over the Southern Hills Country Club course in tuneups for the National Open tournament starting Thursday.

Ben Hogan, the determined Texan from Fort Worth, gearing his game for a history-making challenge for a fifth open championship, oozed with optimism as he completed another practice round Sunday.

Reports Good Round

The four-time open champion told host professional Bill Wotherspoon he played well and Wotherspoon concluded this meant Bantam Ben was on the straight and narrow from tee to green. Hogan, sometimes hitting two or three balls, did not indicate his score but Wotherspoon said Hogan smiled wryly after checking into the lockerroom.

Defending champion Dick Mayer saddened by a 6-over-par 76 in Saturday's National Golf Day competition, wasn't dismayed after his practice stint.

"I've found it," Mayer said, indicating that whatever trouble he was having with his usually grooved swing had been solved. "I'll get them, just you watch," he added.

Links in Perfect Shape

Some of the better known players checked in for their warmup routines and found the course in perfect shape.

Most observers accepted Lionel Hebert's one-over par 71 in the National Golf Day competition as the standard which could be expected in the tournament proper.

On hand for today's practice were such stars as Arnold Palmer, the Masters' champion; Jimmy Demaret, Billy Casper, and two amateur threats Harvie Ward and Billy Joe Patton plus numerous others who are not quite as well known.

Ad Gets Results

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Dan Greenhouse advertised his three-bedroom, three-bath hilltop home with swimming pool and view of the ocean for rent at $1,000 a month. Only the ad in the newspaper came out $100. "What a weekend," he sighed. "The phone's been ringing ever since the ad appeared."

Snead Rushes To Open After Dallas Victory

DALLAS (AP)—Sam Snead was so anxious to get to the scene of the National Open—where he'll make his eighteenth try—that he almost went off without his check for winning the $25,000 Dallas Open Sunday.

Snead took first money here for the second year in a row when he won a playoff with Julius Boros, Gary Player and John McMullin. He attended a hastily arranged "presentation ceremony" where they gave him a dummy check because the real check hadn't yet been written. Then Sam sprinted for an automobile.

More Sports On Page 14

$3,500 Check Delivered

Right behind him came Jim Lawson, the tournament director, who managed to throw the authentic check for $3,500 in the window of the car as Snead roared off with a police escort. Sam was catching a plane for Tulsa.

Snead took one of the finest tournament records of the year to Tulsa where he'll shoot for the title that has so frustratingly eluded him since he started trying for it in 1937. He has played each year that the Open has been held since then, and three times managed to finish second. It has become quite an obsession with Snead, who at 46 says he thinks he'll make it before he reaches 50.

Snead has the lowest stroke average in golf—69.20 in 20 rounds. He shot a closing 1-under-par 69 to tie McMullin, the tour freshman from Fair Oaks, Calif.; Boros, the Sphinx-like man from Mid-Pines, N. C.; and Player, the youthful star from Johannesburg, South Africa, all for first place, each with 272 for 72 holes.

Sinks 15-Footer

In the sudden death playoff, Snead made short work of his rivals. He banged in a 15-footer on the first extra hole for a birdie and Player and Boros took pars, while McMullin didn't even putt out when he saw he could get nothing better than a par.

McMullin started the final round leading by three strokes with 198 for 54 holes.

But he ran into trouble in the stretch and wound up with a 74 and 272 for 72 holes, while Snead and Boros had 69's and Player shot a 68.

A total of 16 golfers, including one woman, turned out Saturday at the Mar-O-Del golf course to take part in the "beat the winner" competition.

Purpose of the play was to top the net scores of 71 fired by Lionel Hebert and 76 by Dick Mayer in the National Open tournament stroked at Tulsa, Okla. last week.

Beating that mark were the following Marionites: Mrs. Ken Buehlmann, 64; Jerry Wynn, 65; Dick Kingsley, 64; Tom Woods, 64; Cliff Willis, 67; Ken Buehlmann, 68; Elmer Davis, 68; Dick Dutt, 64; Bill Wiedemann, 69; Dick Huddle, 66; John Rife, 64; Lawrence Weiss, 64; and Webb Anderson 62.

Dutch Russell, James Crabtree and Don Schoonmaker missed the magic scores by stroking net totals of 72, 78 and 72 respectively.

Plans are now being made for a tournament to be shot in July, between the "Democrats" and the "Republicans." Some 15 linksmen have already signed for the event.

At the Country Club, a total of 15 men and women wound up with scores under Hebert's 71.

Mrs. Jack Stoddard stroked a 67, while the men wound up as follows: E. J. Kinter, 67; Dr. Richard L. Morgan, 69; George Howser, 67; S. W. Halderman, 69; Warren Rowley, 65; Dr. C. A. Sheehe, 65; Paul Hunt, 69; J. T. Weis, 61; Maury Cornell, 65; Bill Eikenberry, 63; Robert Sullivan, 64; Bill Foster, 68; Clarence Freeman, 63; Don Yoder, 68; and Bob Sykora, 66.

Sunday schedules at both Mar-O-Del and the Country Club were rained out.

Sixty-five women took part in the weekly ladies golf session at Marion Country Club Thursday. Low gross honors went to Mrs. Mae Frazier, Mrs. Phillip Guthery and Mrs. Del Martin. Mrs. William Leffler and Mrs. Robert Vance won low net honors while low putts went to Mrs. Paul Frye.

A blind partner tournament was held. Winners in that event were Mrs. Bud Burke Jr., Mrs. James McNoldy, Mrs. Richard Probst, Mrs. Howard Stoll, Mrs. James McGregor, Mrs. Robert Axe and Mrs. Robert Cripps.

A ladder tournament is scheduled this week with twilight golf to follow. Hostesses for the twilight golf will be Mrs. Leffler and Mrs. Jasper Burt. Reservations for dinner had been asked as early as possible.

Hostesses for the ladder tournament will be Mrs. Frazier and Mrs. Theodore Hufert.

Seek To End Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Another attempt to settle the 39-day building trades work stoppage will be made at a meeting today with Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze. The mayor and spokesmen for the Building Trades Employers Assn. and the Building Trades Council, a union group, said they had no new proposals to offer. Some 30,000 persons in Cuyahogo, Lorain, Geauga and Lake counties have been idled by the dispute.

Six Cincinnati pitchers drew starting assignments in the Redlegs' first 11 games this spring. The only two complete games were turned in by Bob Purkey, ex-Pittsburgh hurler.

Cubs' Pitching Ace Handcuffs Bucs on 1 Hit

By The Associated Press

Does anybody still think the Dodgers made a mistake moving to Los Angeles?

Walter O'Malley is so busy these days carting money to the bank that he doesn't even have time to stop and count it. This was the week O'Malley hit the jackpot.

He has seen victory in the Chavez, Ravine referendum, and a refreshing surge by his Dodger ball club. By beating Milwaukee Sunday 12-4, they made it five in a row over the Braves this year.

Pulls Record Crowds

The three-game series with the Braves drew 171,326, a National League record. In 27 home dates, the Dodgers have pulled 810,151 into the Coliseum. This is 157,379 ahead of last year's record pace at Milwaukee when the Braves played before 2,215,404 at home.

By beating Milwaukee, the Dodgers helped the San Francisco Giants stay in first place, despite San Francisco's 6-3 defeat by Cincinnati.

Los Angeles failed to climb out of the cellar, however, when Philadelphia finally edged St. Louis 6-4 in 14 innings after dropping the opener 6-5 in 10 innings. Harry Anderson's third homer of the day with a man on in the 14th saved the Phils from the basement.

Moe Drabowsky of Chicago pitched a one-hit shutout against Pittsburgh, winning 4-0 with the help of homers by Ernie Banks and Walt Moryn. The only hit was Ted Kluszewski's single.

Podres Gives 11 Hits

Johnny Podres gave up 11 hits to the Braves before 57,122 at Los Angeles but it didn't matter. The Dodgers, clubbed loser Gene Conley and three successors for 19.

Anderson hit a single, double and two homers in the first game for the Phils but St. Louis won on Del Ennis' sacrifice fly after three walks in the 10th. Anderson took matters in his own hands in the second with his two-run blast in the 14th after the Phils pulled even with two in the eighth and two in the ninth.

Banks hit his 17th homer and Moryn his 12th off loser Ronnie Kline while Drabowsky was doing a job on the Pirates. In addition to Klu's single, three others reached base, one walked and two made it on errors.

House Opens Heated Debate on Ike's World Trade Program

Bill's Chance For Passage Seen Tossup

Protectionists Gain Support in Opposing Five-Year Extension

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's beleaguered reciprocal trade program goes before the House today with its chances of survival a tossup.

As the House prepared for two days of general debate, the bitterest floor battle in the 24-year history of the onetime New Deal trade promotion act was in prospect.

Eisenhower has asked a five-year extension of the program after it expires June 30, along with authority to lower U.S. tariffs another 25 per cent in return for trade concessions by other countries to the United States.

Passed by Single Vote

When it was last extended two years ago, the program escaped sudden death in the House by a single vote.

This year, with opposition to low tariff foreign imports intensified by the business recession, protectionist forces have picked up allies in both the Republican and Democratic ranks.

The strongest opposition comes from the President's own party. But the Democrats, traditionally its strongest defenders, have lost heavily as members representing coal, textiles, minerals, oil and small business interests have swung against the program.

Sees Close Vote Again

Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa), leader of the protectionist forces, predicted the outcome will turn on as few as 20 or 30 votes.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark), who headed the forces backing Eisenhower's program, was prepared to make some concessions. They were dismissed in advance by the opposition, however, as being of no substances.

To meet criticism of the use of the President's tariff authority, the House Ways and Means Committee added to the extension bill a provision for a congressional veto of the President's action in any tariff case by a two-thirds vote.

And among other concessions, the committee added a provision designed to check foreign imports injurious to domestic oil and mineral producers.

It provides that the President, in determining whether imports are at a rate threatening the national security, must consider investment in a domestic company as well as the normal level of exploration and development.

Summons Cabinet

PARIS (AP) — Premier Charles de Gaulle summoned his Cabinet today to discuss the host of problems he is committed to solve and possibly to announce the names of more ministers who will help him.

Relations with France's former protectorates of Tunisia and Morocco were due to come up. Finance Minister Antoine Pinay also was likely to present an outline of the nation's economic troubles.

Second Largest in World

OSU's Telescope Will Probe Deep Into Universe

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Each morning, workmen inch their cars along a narrow, rocky back road, past signs that read "Keep Out" and "Restricted Area," until they reach a huge clearing surrounded on all sides by thick woodland.

There they resume work on a towering copper and steel structure that some day may, with others like it:

Tell us whether there actually is a definite, physical limit to the size of the universe.

Receive radio messages from earthmen traveling through outer space.

Give man a clearer, more precise picture of the universe than any other device has given him before.

THE STRUCTURE is Ohio State University's revolutionary radio telescope. When it is completed, probably in late 1959 or early 1960, it will be the second largest radio telescope in the world, the largest in America, and the first to depart from the conventional, and much more expensive, dish-shape design.

It was designed by Robert T. Nast, a young instructor of electrical engineering at Ohio State, and its construction is under the supervision of Dr. John D. Kraus, director of the Ohio State University radio observatory.

Rising on a 20-acre site just south of here donated by Ohio Wesleyan University, the enormous mechanism will, in its entirety, have a surface area almost the size of two football fields. Another three gridirons probably could fit between the telescope's two largest sections.

Upon its completion, the section now under construction will be 70 feet high and 360 feet wide. Across the field, a section 100 feet high and 360 feet wide will be built. A third component, perhaps 10 feet by 15 feet, will go up at a strategic point somewhere in between.

THE LARGEST section, Dr. Kraus said, will be a tiltable reflector capable of sweeping the skies at different angles. It will catch radio signals from other celestial bodies in a wide range of wave lengths, and bounce them 500 feet across the field to the other huge section, a fixed, parabolic (slightly curved) reflector. The parabolic reflector will, in turn, direct the radio waves to a single focal point housed in the smaller structure where antennae and other receiving equipment will catch and record them.

When the whole thing is completed, Dr. Kraus said, it's total cost will have been about $250,000. The national science foundation has already provided grants totaling $106,600, and Ohio State has donated something more than $19,000.

Dr. Kraus said the only larger radio telescope in existence is a 250 - foot diameter conventional dish-type telescope in Manchester, England. Its surface area is only about a third greater than Ohio State's telescope, Dr. Kraus said, and yet its cost ran into the millions.

Just what will the radio telescope do?

"It's a little hard to predict," says Dr. Kraus. "We've made great progress in the past few years, but it's still a new science. We're about in the same stage of advancement now as the optical astronomers were just after Galileo invented the optical telescope. For one thing, though, radio telescopes can penetrate deeper into space than the largest optical telescope, so we'll be able to get more detailed and accurate maps of the radio sky. The sky we 'see' with radio waves is much different from the visual sky. We'll be able to learn more about the planets in our solar system, and more about interplanetary matters."

DR. KRAUS said smaller radio telescopes already in use have picked up radio waves from a galaxy known as "Cygnus A," 200 million light years away.

"The waves we're receiving from it this very moment left the galaxy 200 million years ago, 190 million years before the first form of life stirred on the earth."

A radio telescope's ability to reach across incomprehensible stretches of space may some day be used to test a current theory of the universe.

"The theory holds that the universe was once a relatively smaller, denser mass, and that it is continually expanding in a special pattern," Dr. Kraus said. "If that's true, then in some point in space, there is an edge to the universe. If there is, this, or perhaps a much larger radio telescope, may be able to tell us."

Dr. Kraus sees another possible role for the radio telescope.

Should man succeed in traveling through space, his probable means of communication will be radio, says Dr. Kraus.

"We're just in the conjecture state now," he said, "but it could well be that our equipment, or another like it, will pick up the first messages from tomorrow's spacemen."

5 in Vice Raid Fined by Court

Fines totaling $400 and costs were levied against two men and three women arrested in a police raid on an alleged house of prostitution at 690 Hocking St. Friday night when they pleaded guilty in Municipal Court this morning.

The largest fine of $200 and costs was imposed on Herman Jones, 56, on a charge of being the keeper of the place.

Each of three women charged with prostitution was fined $50 and costs and given a suspended 60-day term in the Columbus Workhouse on condition she leave town. The three women were: Larissa Davis, 24, of 218 Senate St., Ida Rembert, 22, of Mansfield, and Loretta Davis, 26, of Mansfield.

Wilbur Rowland, 34, of 396 W. Center St. was fined $50 and costs on a charge of being a visitor in a house of prostitution.

The raid on the house was staged just before 10 p.m. Friday by a squad of city policemen led by Capt. Virgil Campbell and Capt. Marion B. Tatham. Police had been watching the house for a period of time prior to the raid, they said.

ley is vice president. Both were football stars at Yale and Jones was the son of the late T. A. D. Jones Sr., 1907 All-America quarterback at Yale and later the Eli coach. Jones Sr. came from Middletown, Ohio. Crowley is married to the victim's sister.

Crowley and Jones came to Tokyo May 5 with Frederick M. Kissinger, a Maryland accountant, to buy an oil tanker.

Found Dead in Suite

Jones was found dead three days later in the Imperial Hotel suite the three men shared. The body was badly bruised, both eyes were black, his lip was cut and the police said he had had heavy blows on the left side of his head. An autopsy attributed death to cerebral hemorrhage, linked to contusions.

Police said the walls and curtains of the room were spotted with blood.

Crowley and Kissinger admitted making a night club tour with Jones the night before his death but said they had no idea what happened to him after their return to the hotel. Crowley denied any connection with his brother-in-law's death and termed his arrest on May 21 "fantastic." He has been in jail ever since.

Kissinger Cleared

Furukawa said Saturday that Kissinger had been cleared of all suspicion.

The prosecutor said he expected Crowley to ask for bail but would not say whether he would oppose the request.

ognize the East German Communist regime and had demanded that the Soviets in East Berlin promptly return the eight Army officers, one sergeant and their aircraft.

The Western Allies contend that in accordance with the postwar four-power agreements on Germany, all their dealings concerning East Germany must be with the Soviet Union.

The helicopter belonged to the 3rd Armored Division and had been on a military exercise. U. S. authorities assumed the craft turned east due to a navigational error in a thunderstorm and ran out of gas.

It came down at Zwickau, 30 miles east of the border. The Soviet army headquarters in East Berlin said all nine men were safe and unharmed.

The East German Foreign Ministry announced it had sent the U. S. State Department a note protesting that East German air space had been violated. The Foreign Ministry followed up today with a declaration that the fact it had sent its protest direct to the State Department showed the East German regime—and not the Soviets—has jurisdiction in the matter.

Referred to East Germany

A Belgian jet fighter was forced down in East Germany 12 days ago. The Soviets have referred all Belgian queries to the East Germans.

The Americans still refused to announce the names of the nine men in the helicopter, contending that all the next-of-kin had not been notified. The Army did confirm an East German report that one of the passengers was Maj. James Zeller, artillery training officer of the 3rd Armored Division. Zeller's home town was not given.

The East German spokesman refused to say where the men were now or when they might be released.

The only other accident in the city caused less than $100 total damage, police estimated.

Auto Strikes Another

A single non-injury accident was reported today by sheriff's deputies. It occurred Sunday at 11:15 a.m. on Vernon Heights Blvd. when a car driven by Norman I. Fetter of Mansfield, struck the back end of vehicle driven by Frederick Zeisenheim of 523 King Ave. Both cars were only slightly damaged, deputies said.

Cars Run Off Roads

Two non-injury accidents with only minor damage done to the vehicles in both cases, were reported today by state patrolmen of the Marion post.

Tommy Reynolds, 21, of Detroit, Mich., was charged with driving left of center after his auto swerved off Rt. 23 about one mile north of Waldo at 2 a.m. today and came to rest in a ditch, patrolmen said.

The driver was cited to appear in Municipal Court today to answer the charge.

A farm fence owned by Walter E. Fetter of near Caledonia was slightly damaged in the second mishap reported by patrolmen. It occurred on Rt. 98 four miles east of Marion at 9:50 a.m. Sunday.

Officers said the northbound auto driven by Dennis H. Loar, 18, of Columbus swerved off the right side of the highway where it struck the farm fence.

House Group Cuts Fund for Public Works

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today voted $1,074,041,500 in new funds for federal public works programs during the fiscal year starting July 1.

This is $1,974,500 less than President Eisenhower requested. It includes $749,145,226 for 396 water resources construction programs of the Army Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation.

Included in the projects for which financing was approved, subject to House action later this week, were 43 not included in the President's construction program. The committee said it believed the extra projects "would be constructed sooner or later" and an earlier start may reduce the overall cost.

The bill allots $779,638,300 for Army Engineers' programs, $245,739,200 to the Reclamation Bureau, $30,104,000 to the Bonneville Power Administration, $735,000 to the Southeastern Power Administration, $975,000 to the Southwestern Power Administration, and $16,850,000 to the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Army engineer projects include: (Amount in parenthesis is budget recommendation)

Reuther Keeps Union Under Control

UAW's Chief Guarding Against Auto Outbreak

By VICTOR RIESEL

And what is so rare as a day in June? Walter Reuther without authorization from his union to strike the automobile industry at contract time, that is what's so rare these days in this June.

VICTOR RIESEL

It has been generally overlooked in the analyses of the Auto Union's high command that it never asked its workers at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler for the power to call a strike. No national stoppage can be ordered without a two-thirds vote of the membership.

Reuther and his colleagues never asked for strike votes and strike power because they didn't want any hotheads to start a chain reaction across country which could shut down hundreds of plants without formal notice from the central Detroit headquarters.

No local leader now has the right to call out his people. This is a mark of the strong discipline the United Auto Workers Union is exerting to avert flare-ups.

With nerves tense and taut, a single stoppage somewhere could explode into a shutdown which would damage the entire industry and its workers — damages from which not only one of the companies but the national economy itself might not recover for a year.

NEITHER UNION nor company chiefs want a repetition of the experience some years ago at Chrysler. Then the men also worked without a contract. There were slowdowns, wildcat stoppages, interference with production speeds, arguments and bad morale. All this ended in snarled production, unkept schedules and mistakes in the actual production history.

This can repeat itself — but at higher speed because of automation. The electronic brain can be pushbuttoned into a serious case of production schizophrenia. Wrong buttons can be pushed.

Ford, for example, has spent over 2½ billion dollars over 10 years on new facilities. Materials move electronically from one operation to another.

Inspectors have been replaced by control devices. Machines count, fill orders, maintain inventories, reorder, give instructions and even run automatic grease and oil lubricating systems which signal when repairs are needed. Walkouts or "accidents" could throw these electric brains into costly frenzies.

THUS THE NATIONAL union chief not only avoided any hint of strike authorization but ran briefing sessions across the country. At these conferences shop committeemen and stewards were warned not to try to fight any company alone. They were advised against hotheadedness, a sudden rash of grievances and taking on of foremen.

They were told to reduce all local demands to "absolute realism." There are 9,719 local demands in GM's 125 plants alone.

In a special memo to his people, Walter Reuther told them he was ready to recommend delaying demands for any wage increases until the end of the year. This was an effort to keep the prevailing peaceful mood — and to see what the industry could afford before fighting for it on the picket line.

ALTHOUGH THERE has been restraint of tirades by partisans of both sides, the industry, too, is restraining its moods.

You wouldn't know this from reading the public statements but on reading the exact language of the company statements you discover that the firms have, in effect, extended the contracts with the Auto Union. Virtually all provisions of the old pacts remain in force.

This goes for vacations, overtime, holiday and weekend pay. Also for sharing of overtime and the settling of old and new grievances by union stewards who can take paid time off to settle these differences.

There still are the same payments for sick leave and unemployment benefits which the firms pay into special funds. Also the same wage rates and retirement plans are kept. There is even a cost-of-living allowance as well as promotions, incentive pay and call-in pay. They are the same contracts — without company collection of union dues.

Actually it's the most warmhearted cold war the industry and its workers have "suffered."

10 Spectators Are Hurt in Chillicothe Auto Race Mishap

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Ten persons were treated at City Hospital here Saturday night after a stock car smashed into a wall at nearby Atomic Speedway, then careened out of control through an open pit area and into a crowd of spectators.

Many had crowded into the pit to watch the feature race.

The driver, Thurman Wheeler, 30, of Rt. 6, Chillicothe, said he was unable to steer or brake the car because a wheel was smashed when it slammed into the wall. He was unhurt.

Deputy Carl Reisinger of the Ross County Sheriff's Office said five of the 10 injured are still hospitalized. Most seriously hurt are Alva Blaney of Mason, W. Va., with a broken leg and head and internal injuries, and Kenneth Bentley of Portsmouth, who has broken legs and severe cuts, the deputy said.

The car was in the 16th lap of the race when the accident happened. Racing at the speedway, about 10 miles south of here, was halted for the night.

Boston Trails By 8 Lengths After 2 Wins

By The Associate Press

There is a palace revolution in the American League. Three teams are over .500. The new rebels are the Boston Red Sox, who finally are making a move.

By taking a pair Sunday from Chicago—thus dumping the White Sox into a last-place tie with the Detroit Tigers — the Red Sox stretched their modest winning streak to five.

With Jackie Jensen hitting two homers, including a two-run blast in the 10th, Boston took the opener from Chicago 6-5. A pair of two-run homers by Jim Piersall and Gene Stephens boosted them to a 4-1 sweep. Boston moved within eight games of first place.

Cleveland's two victories over the leading New York Yankees, 14-1 and 5-4, made the league standing a bit more respectable.

A's, Orioles Split

Kansas City now trails by 7½ after splitting with Baltimore. Hal Brown and George Zuverink teamed up to hand the A's their first shutout of the year in the opener 4-0. But Kansas City managed an even break, winning the second 2-1 with only five hits.

Despite home runs by Gus Zernial, Frank Bolling and Billy Martin of the Tigers, Washington sneaked home with a 4-3 decision for Pedro Ramos.

The Red Sox are getting a reputation as come-from-behind kids They rallied in all four games against Chicago in their series sweep. Don Buddin, Dick Gernert and Jensen all had hit homers off Billy Pierce before Jensen again connected with one on in the 10th

Boston had only five hits while Chicago had 19 in defeat, including five by Billy Goodman. Leo Kiely was the winner.

Sisler Gets Victory

Piersall and Stephens, Ted Williams' replacement, did the heavy work while Dave Sisler held Chicago to six hits in the second game.

The Orioles' Brown allowed four hits in six innings before giving way to Zuverink, who slugged a two-run triple. Bob Martyn's throw cut down the potential tying run at the plate to save Kansas City's 2-1 margin in the eighth inning of the second game.

Gus Zernial tied a major league record at Washington with his ninth home as a pinch hitter.

Novel Gasoline Pump Yields Six Blends From One Nozzle

Unique gasoline pumps which can deliver six grades of motor fuel through a single hose have been installed at four Sunoco Service stations here, the Sun Oil Co. announced today.

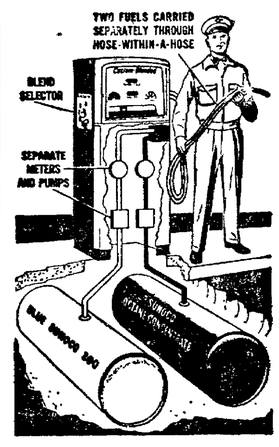
The new pump draws fuel from separate underground storage tanks and carries octane blends from 94 to more than 102. Fuel from the two tanks is blended automatically by positioning a blend selector on the side of the pump which also sets the price according to octane quality.

E. M. Landry, manager of the company's Columbus sales district, said the custom blending is being introduced to permit motorists to fit fuels closely to the octane needs of indidivudal engines.

Installation of the new pumps was completed by the Tuller Corp. of Columbus.

The four Marion stations which are now servicing autos from the new pumps are:

Hilborn's Twin Sunoco at 871 N. Main St., Niles Sunoco Service at 301 S. Main St., Jimmy's Sunoco Station at 368 N. Main St. and Lusch Sunoco Service at 254 E. Center St.



MIRACLE PUMP which blends and dispenses six grades of motor fuel has been introduced at Sunoco service stations in this area.

Radnor Baseball Team in 12-4 Win

Radnor — Radnor thumped Beltone of Columbus 12-4 here Saturday night in a Mark Stephens Memorial League game but the same two teams were rained out Sunday in a Sunday Amateur League at Columbus.

The Radnor nine pushed over runs in the second inning and was never in serious trouble. Four runs came home in the fourth frame when Roger McCombs and Charley Gray each connected for two-run homers. Lowell Strohl belted a three-run home run in the fifth.

George Steele started on the mound for the winners and struck out 11 batters in six innings. Leggett finished for the winners. In addition to the three home runs, Strohl and Lowell Taylor each had two base hits.

The postponed Sunday game will be played as part of a double header here on July 13.

Radnor faces a busy schedule this week, playing three of the state's leading teams. Tuesday night the Mansfield Merchants will move in for an 8 p.m. game. Buckeye Sports Center of Columbus will be here Saturday for an 8 p.m. game and London will be in Sunday at 2:30. Both Buckeye and London are unbeaten.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market drifted aimlessly early this afternoon in moderately active trading.

Prices were mixed with a slight tendency toward the downside.

Most leading stocks were either unchanged or showed fractional changes. A few moved around a point either way.

Having gone to repeated new highs for the year last week the market appeared to be consolidating its gains, brokers said. Some profit taking was apparent.

Selected oils, coppers, rails and tobaccos improved. Small losers appeared in many of the major groups. Steels leaned to the downside. Motors showed little change. The rails as a group were off slightly on average.

Lorillard, Du Pont and Kennecott were up about a point. Union Carbide fell close to a point.

A big 15,000-share block of National Steel was traded at 52⅛, off ⅛. Another big one, 13,000 shares of Middle South Utilities, was off ⅝ at 42.

U.S. government bonds were steady to slightly lower.

UPPER SANDUSKY — Walter J. Kail and Clayton Whitmore, members of the Wyandot County draft board, have received five-year service awards from Col. Harold Hays, state selective service director. Greeks, Turks Resume Battle

Disturbance Started By Killing of Woman

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Clashes between Greek and Turkish Cypriots broke out today for the third straight day.

The new disturbances were touched off by the murder of a Turkish Cypriot woman.

She was the first Turkish Cypriot killed since the communal strife began Saturday after a bomb was thrown at the Turkish Consulate.

The new violence aroused great indignation in Greece. The Greek delegate to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council prepared to ask the NATO group to consider the new flareup on Cyprus at its weekly meeting Tuesday.

The Turks bitterly oppose the Greek demand for independence from Britain and union with Greece. The Turks want the island partitioned between the two communities.

Bridegroom Dies

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Fred Pineda, 32, collapsed while kneeling at the altar beside his bride-to-be Saturday, and died two hours later.

Education Board Clerks Cited for Record Keeping

Records of the Marion County Board of Education, the Tully and the Ridgedale local school districts are examined in reports released today by State Auditor James A. Rhodes. In most instances, records of all three are in good order, the state examiner reports, and the work of the clerks received commendation.

From Oct. 31, 1956, through last March 31, the Marion County Board of Education received $54,468.11 and spent $39,672.32. There was a beginning balance of $1,335.01 and a concluding balance on March 31 of $14,795.79.

The examination of Ridgedale local school district is the first since its creation in May, 1956, from the former Morral, Meeker and Grand Prairie districts. Expenses from June 25, 1956, through last March 31 were: general fund, $388,999.82; bond retirement fund, $43,522.75; lunch room fund, $45,599.22; building fund at Grand Prairie, $2,324.44; building fund at Ridgedale, $435,728.29.

Tully district expenses from Sept. 29, 1956, through last March 31 were: general fund, $88,847.43; bond retirement fund, $18,077; lunch room fund, $11,872.71; uniform school supplies, $678.91; building fund, $610.28.

Examinations are conducted periodically by the Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices under the direction of State Auditor Rhodes. Copies of the report are on file with the clerk and the Marion County prosecutor.

Flag Week Opens

BALTIMORE (AP)—Ceremonies at the Star-Spangled Banner Flag House Sunday opened National Flag Week.

The Flag House is on the site of the home occupied by Mrs. Mary Young Pickersgill, who made the flag that inspired Francis Scott Key to write the national anthem.

The 30-by-42 foot flag contained 15 stars and 15 stripes. It flew over Fort McHenry during a bombardment by the British fleet Sept. 13-14, 1814.

Traffic Toll May Be Year's Lightest

Accidents Take 12 Lives In Ohio Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

The panel truck rested hubcap-deep in Rush Creek, its headlights on, one window open, and its two occupants dead.

That was the puzzle that greeted Fairfield County sheriff's men and Ohio highway patrolmen Sunday. There appeared to be no major damage to the truck. But inside, Jack Day, 22, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Beatrice Stephenson, 57, lay dead. Their bodies appeared unmarked.

They comprised two of the 12 accidental fatalities in Ohio over the weekend in which an unusually small number-only three- died in highway smashups.

It may have been the lowest traffic fatality count of the year. But one of those traffic accidents involved six cars and 23 persons, two of whom were killed and eight injured.

Tests Indicate Monoxide

The bodies of the two Fairfield County residents-Day was from Rushville, Mrs. Stephenson from Lancaster-were taken to University Hospital in Columbus. Tests there indicated carbon monoxide poisoning.

Dr. Lloyd L. Kersell, Fairfield County coroner, said this will probably be his official ruling. For this reason the two were not included in the traffic fatality count.

He said the two apparently backed off the road and got stuck in the creek. It was a cold night, he added, and they may have kept the window up while the engine was running.

One of them may have realized carbon monoxide was overcoming them and managed to get the window open just before succumbing, he said.

The Associated Press survey of accidental fatalities began at 6 p. m. Friday and continued through Sunday midnight.

List of Fatalities

The fatalities:

Friday night:

Harold Robinson Jr., 15 months, Avondale (Hamilton County), drowned while playing in 12 inches of water in the bathtub of his home.

Saturday:

Capt. John T. Ferrier, 33, Denver, Colo., when his F16F Sabre jet fighter caught fire and crashed as he performed with the Colorado Air National Guard's precision flying team over Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton.

Jack R. Heckaman, 31, Alliance in a two-car collision at the intersection of U.S. 62 and Ohio 173 five miles east of Alliance.

Sunday:

Jack Day, 22, Rushville, and his mother - in - law, Mrs. Beatrice Stephenson, 57, Lancaster, apparently of carbon monoxide poisoning when their panel truck became mired in Rush Creek about 1½ miles north of Bremen in south east Fairfield County.

Paul D. Hunsinger, 36; his wife, Catherine, 38, and their daughter Cathy, 6, when fire swept their Cincinnati home.

Waldo Wollet, 47, Van Wert, when a dump truck bed fell on him as he worked in his garage.

Mrs. Julia Biddison, 51, Cleveland, and Mrs. Adan Trevino, 37, Delphos, in a six-car pileup on U.S. 30 four miles west of Van Wert.

Frank Charles, 15, Fairmount, drowned as he tried to swim the Miami River near Miamitown (Hamilton County).

Test Results 'Gratifying'

GE Reports on Nuclear Plane Study

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's first nuclear-powered aircraft may be unmanned and radio controlled.

It may circle for six months or a year, remote from populated regions, and then be landed for detailed studies of radiation, wear and parts fatigue.

Such a test flight could bring to light any unsuspected problems and help assure safety of crews later.

New Brochure Issued

These possibilities were being discussed in the aviation industry today in the light of a new brochure on "Aircraft Nuclear Propulsion Systems Applications for the National Defense," distributed by General Electric Atomic Products Division.

The GE Aircraft Nuclear Propulsion Department, Cincinnati, has been working for more than five years to develop materials, methods and engineering concepts for nuclear aircraft. Work has been under way both at its Evandale, Ohio, plant and at the Idaho Falls, Idaho, atomic energy installation.

Reporting "gratifying results of component tests," the GE brochure said, "Nuclear powered aircraft are capable of remaining in their element air for the major portion of their life."

Did Not Say When

The company did not say when atomic-poweed aircraft might be ready for use. Defense officials have indicated that at least several years will be required to develop a workable military plane.

But when such planes are put into use, the company said, their long range will eliminate present heavy requirements for fuel and for the tankers and air crews needed for aerial refueling operations, and will cut down sharply on the need for overseas bases.

The booklet said nuclear-powered aircraft eventually can be used either as bombers or as missile launchers on constant station aloft.

They also can be used for global surveillance in antisubmarine, early warning, weather and rescue patrol as well as in intelligence, inspection and worldwide logistic support of U. S. ground forces, it added.

INHALATOR CALLS

(Saturday)

7:05 p.m. to 958 Cheney Ave. where Mrs. Donna Thomas, 36, became ill. The inhalator was not used and she was taken to Marion General Hospital in a Boyd ambulance. She was treated and released.

Son Dead, Father Is Critically Hurt in Quarrel at Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—A domestic squabble ended in tragedy when Joseph Roehrig, 50, a volunteer fireman, shot and killed his 19-year-old son, then tried to take his own life, police reported.

Roehrig is in critical condition in General Hospital with bullet wounds in the head and right leg.

Police said his son, Thomas, an apprentice butcher, was killed Sunday when he tried to break up a quarrel between his mother and father.

The mother, Mrs. Esther Roehrig, 46, told police she and her husband argued over her taking a job against his wishes. The argument began Saturday night in the couple's nearby Mack home and ended about midnight when Mrs. Roehrig went to a neighborhood movie to pick up their two younger children, Kenneth, 14, and Lois, 12.

Mrs. Roehrig told police that when she returned she found her husband asleep in an upstairs bedroom with a .45 caliber pistol by his side.

She said she hid the pistol, then went to sleep on the sofa downstairs.

Mrs. Roehrig said her husband awakened her about 7:30 a.m. and demanded the pistol. When she refused he obtained another weapon, a .32 caliber pistol, that also was kept in the house.

The sound of the argument awakened Thomas who, as he came down the stairs, was shot at by his father, Mrs. Roehrig said. The shot missed.

Police said the father and son struggled and the pistol went off, wounding the elder Roehrig in the right leg.

The son stepped back, police said, and as he did so the father fired, wounding Thomas in the stomach. As Thomas fell, the father fired again, hitting the son in the forehead.

Mrs. Roehrig was quoted by police as saying her husband then went into the living room and fired a bullet into his head. He was slumped over a telephone table when police arrived.

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished with extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful topically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan® Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 98¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

Wesleyan Seniors Join Ohio's Graduate Ranks

By The Associatetd Press

Seniors at Wittenberg College, and Denison, Miami and Ohio Wesleyan universities have joined the stream of young graduates marching off the campuses of Ohio's colleges and universities in recent days.

All four schools held commencement exercises today.

At Denison University in Granville, 269 graduates heard Dr. Arthur Stanton Adams, president of the American Council on Education. He declared that this country's educational programs need improvement, but that it doesn't need to imitate patterns of other nations.

Makes Final Address

Arthur S. Flemming, who leaves next month to join President Eisenhower's cabinet as secretary for health, education and welfare, made his final address as president of Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware to about 400 graduating seniors.

Today's exercises followed similar programs (Sunday) at Heidelberg, Ohio Northern, Findlay, Bowling Green, Central State, Ohio U., Hiram and the College of Steubenville.

Baccalaureate services were also held Sunday at Western Reserve and John Carroll universities in Cleveland, and at Oberlin College.

O'Neill Speaks at Tiffin

Gov. C. William O'Neill spoke to 116 graduates at Heidelberg College in Tiffin, urging them to make a place for themselves in a changing world of Sputniks and advances in almost every field. O'Neill also received an honorary doctor of laws degree.

The president emeritus of Emory University in Georgia, Goodrich C. White, reminded 254 Ohio Northern University seniors at Ada of the power of purposefulness.

Unforeseeable factors in the future will require an ability to adjust, Dr. Thornton C. Fry, vice president of Remington Rand, cautioned 53 degree recipients at Findlay College.

Bowling Green Speaker

Attitude, ability and aims will determine success or failure in life, the retired president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, Aifred H. Williams, told 519 Bowling Green State University seniors.

The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Alabama Negro leader, was more optimistic than some speakers, declaring to 172 Cehtral State College graduates at Wilberforce that "this is a great time to be alive." He urged his listeners to rise above individualistic concerns.

At Athens, 843 Ohio University graduates heard Ralph M. Besse, Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. executive vice president, recommend disciplines of work, self-reliance and participation in civic affairs.

111 Graduate at Hiram

Colleges must develop graduates who spend more time with books than television and are analytical citizens rather than solid political party members, the dean of the College of Letters and Science at the University of Wisconsin, Dr. Hoyt Ingraham, told 111 Hiram College graduates.

"Putting kindness in the heart and ideas in the mind are more significant than putting satellites into outer space," said Forrest H. Kirkpatrick, Wheeling Steel Corp. executive, before 62 College of Steubenville graduates.

Commencement programs at a number of campuses were forced indoors by rain Sunday.

Two Marion Students Graduate From OWU

Among the students who graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University today were Richard Drury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Finley P. Drury of 533 N. Main St., and Charles Faust, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Faust of 480 Elgin Ct.

Akron, O., possesses the world's largest fishing tackle factory.

Ohio Jewish War Veterans Assail Immigration Law

CLEVELAND (AP) — The McCarran-Walter Act limiting the flow of immigration to the United States along racial and ethnic lines was condemned in a resolution adopted by the Ohio Jewish War Veterans at their three-day convention which ended Sunday night.

Another resolution called for an increase in disability compensation for veterans 64 or older to $70 a month from the present $54.

The veterans also urged that synagogue bombing incidents in various parts of the country be investigated by the FBI.

Bernard B. Direnfeld of Cleveland Heights was elected commander to succeed Dr. Seymour Fuer of Youngstown, who was chosen inspector general.

Other officers elected included Dr. Sidney Franklin of Youngstown, deputy inspector.

The group's auxiliary elected Mrs. Fred Raboff of Cincinnati as president.

Man in Cleveland Is Killed Playing Russian Roulette

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 47-year-old laborer was killed Sunday in a game of Russian roulette. A woman described by police as his girl friend was jailed without charge for investigation.

Blanco Boyd was pronounced dead at Lakewide Hospital after being shot in the chest.

Held for questioning is Gloria Swanson Harper, 31, at whose Cleveland home the shooting occurred. She is a matron at Painesville Raceway.

Homicide detectives said Miss Harper told them she and Boyd had been drinking at her home and Boyd pulled out a .38-caliber revolver, suggesting that they play "a little game called Russian roulette."

Boyd removed five bullets from the gun, spun the chamber and pointed the weapon at her, Miss Harper said. He pulled the trigger twice, but nothing happened. She said he then handed her the gun, saying, "Honey, it's your turn."

She said she aimed the gun at the wall and pulled the trigger with negative results and finally, after much prodding from Boyd, pointed the weapon at him. It fired.

45 Planes at Airport

160 Pilots, Passengers Attend Jaycee Air Fair

More than 160 pilots and their passengers from Ohio and surrounding states flew into Marion Municipal Airport Sunday morning for the seventh annual breakfast flight of the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A total of 45 small planes arrived at the airport between 6 a.m. and noon.

The breakfast flight was one of the major events of a two - day Air Fair sponsored by the Jaycees which began Saturday noon with "penny-a-pound" passenger flights and a glider demonstration by the local glider club.

IN ALL, SOME 350 Marionites took passenger rides over the city in modern four-place planes donated by the Marion Air Service and the Galion Iron Works.

These planes were piloted by Gerald Peterson, Knute Reifsnyder, Alva Martin and Maurice Routon, volunteer pilots.

Thomas Rohrer, general chairman, estimated that some 1,000 people visited the airport Saturday and Sunday.

"This is the most successful Air Fair we have held in recent years and in the face of inclement weather," Charles Sidenstricker, president of the Jaycees, said.

Climaxing the day's events Saturday was a dance held in a hangar owned by the Galion Iron Works. The dance was attended by some 80 couples and featured Dick Baker's orchestra from Galion.

ACTIVITIES began early Sunday with the serving of breakfast to visiting airmen and their passengers. The meal was prepared by thet Jaycee-Ettes.

More passenger flights were offered until sundown.

Sunday afternoon there was a model airplane flying demonstration by the Marion Model Airs. Roy Phillip, vice president of the local model plane club, was in charge of the demonstration.

This annual project is promoted by the Jaycees to draw attention and create interest in the Marion Airport and to further its importance in the community.

Proceeds of the event are used for the club's youth activities and civic development.

Assisting Mr. Rohrer with this year's affair were: Mrs. Donald Pearson, Jaycee-Ette breakfast; William Bauer, concessions, breakfast and dance; Donald Hall, displays and entertainment; Leonard Larson, airplane rides; Mrs. Rohrer, dance decorations; and Troy Evans, publicity.

Science Discovers New Way To Remove Warts Before They Spread

New Compound Works Safely, Without Cutting or Burning

New York, N. Y. (Special)—Medical science has linked warts with a contagious virus that may spread them to all parts of the body. Doctors say picking at warts increases the danger of spreading.

Now, science has discovered a new substance that removes these growths without danger of cutting, burning or infection. This substance, in easy-to-use liquid form, dries up warts so they fall off, leaving only normal, healthy skin.

Reports show this liquid can be safely used at home, even for children. There is no pain, no ugly scarring.

In cases observed by a leading New York skin clinic, this liquid proved its ability to penetrate the wart, destroy its cells, and cause the wart to fall apart and disappear.

The name of this new liquid is *Compound W. It is now available for the first time without prescription at drug counters everywhere for just 98¢. Compound W is guaranteed to remove warts or money refunded.

Addresses Michigan State Graduates

Adlai Suggests Formula To Ease World Tension

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson favors two steps to regenerate the free world economy and a power equality agreement with the Soviet Union to clear a path for arms reduction.

In a commencement speech at Michigan State University, he also called Sunday for United States aid to France in her present crisis and world sharing of medical research and health knowledge.

The Democratic leader suggested borrowing from the Marshall Plan approach of 10 years ago to fuse vigor into the West's "tottering economic assistance."

Would Set Up Committee

Stevenson proposed setting up a committee of experts comparable with the group which laid the groundwork for the Marshall Plan.

The experts, he said, should be assigned the job of preparing an agenda upon which nations can agree and act.

It would take in:

"Joint measures to secure sustained growth, joint negotiations for a low tariff of free trade period, joint undertaking of a long-term aid and investment program in the underdeveloped areas and joint agreement on adequate working capital for world trade."

Such a free world agenda "would go far to revive the conditions under which the old, unfettered, expansive system of free international trade once worked."

'Creeping Crisis'

Stevenson said a deterioration of the old system confronts us with "a creeping crisis, not as dramatic but maybe more serious and more far reaching" than the Marshall Plan was designed to meet.

"As it recedes, we see, expanding eager to take its place, the new Communist techniques of grants, gifts, loans, trade, aid, barter, technical assistance, raw materials at cost, or plain dumping, all bent to a single political purpose — the reinforcement of Communist power," he said.

Stevenson said formal U. S.-Soviet recognition of their power equality and mutual agreement to preserve it would follow logically from the facts of what is presently keeping the peace.

This course, he said, would create confidence and open an avenue for reduction.

Stevenson told a news conference after the commencement that he plans to visit the Soviet Union this summer on a trip which will take him into Soviet areas previously forbidden to foreigners.

Fire Destroys Barn in Hardin

KENTON — Fire leveled the Donald Putnam farm in Cessna Township Saturday afternoon causing damage unofficially estimated at $50,000.

Definite cause of the fire had not been determined today, but Kenton Fire Chief Frank Fields said the hay mow had recently been filled and that spontaneous combustion possibly touched off the blaze.

Equipment lost in the fire was valued at some $25,000. Included was a modern push-button cattle feeding system, tractors and other farm machinery. No stock was in the barn at the time of the blaze.

Fire departments from Kenton and McGuffey were called to the scene at about 2:30 p.m. Firemen battled to keep the blaze from spreading for more than an hour. Mr. Putnam said the barn and contents were covered by insurance.

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)— Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano returned home today from Canada and the United States.

Several States Spurn Federal Loan

Reaction Varies on Plan To Extend Jobless Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—One state has signed up and another has set a date to start payments under the new federal government plan for extending the period of jobless benefits.

Others are considering action but still others indicated they need—or want—no part of the federal advances they could get now subject to later repayment. Some say no extension is needed. Some are barred by constitutional or other provisions.

Pennsylvania Signs

Pennsylvania signed up for the program Friday, the first state to do so. New York already has set a June 23 date for the start of the extra payments, under a standby law passed by its Legislature even before Congress completed action.

Rhode Island votes in a referendum Tuesday. Other action has been or probably soon will be taken in Michigan, Massachusetts, Maryland, Minnesota and Indiana.

States have the right to accept or reject the federal advances. These are designed to permit each state to extend by 50 per cent the period in which it pays jobless benefits to workers who have used up their rights. In more than half the states, this would mean another 13 weeks of payments.

Connecticut Acts

Connecticut already has extended its payment period without federal help, and Ohio and Illinois may follow this course. Michigan is another possibility, depending on what its Legislature decides.

In many states special sessions of the legislature will be needed to make the new program effective. But at least two governors say they have no intention of calling special sessions.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. of Virginia and Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida say economic conditions in their states are improving and no such help is needed.

Other reports of lessened unemployment came from North Carolina, Utah, New Hampshire and Missouri. Kansas reported a lower level of jobless than at the same time last year.

Nebraska, Oklahoma and Kentucky have constitutional restrictions on borrowing.

From the Moon to the Renaissance

If you happen to be looking for a movie which shows a single human blood cell passing through a vein, I know where you can find it. As a matter of fact, the only place you can find that particular shot is the Encyclopaedia Britannica Film library, whose 700 different films, most of them running around 11 minutes, contain any number of sequences you can't find anywhere else.

JOHN CROSBY

The Britannica films, which now are being shown on TV stations across the country under various titles and in varying ways, contain—among other things—Dr. Arnold Gesell's famous child psychology series showing the development of a baby to its first year, shot through one-way glass.

This series is 25 years old and still far and away the best thing of its kind. The Britannica Library also contains footage shot last week, since a constant supply of new films is being shot all the time.

THE RANGE is enormous. The Encyclopaedia Britannica Film Library harbors everything from an imaginary trip to the moon, which contains every last bit of scientific information, to a searching inquiry into the care of your feet.

Like the Encyclopaedia itself, most of the films are factual, but by no means all. I have seen one called "The Monkey Who Would Be King," which is charming animal fantasy. Another, "Tale of the Fiords," was shot by Arne Sucksdorff, Sweden's famous cameraman, and is a symphony of pure outdoor loveliness.

When the Encyclopaedia delves into history, as it does in "Midnight Ride of Paul Revere," the film is not Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, whose meter is much more precise than his history; it is as factual as the history books allow. For instance, that trip to the moon film was as accurate as the Adler Planetarium in Chicago could make it.

PHOTOGRAPHS of the moon's surface were translated to a two-foot model with every ridge and detail to scale. By shooting through the porthole of a space ship, you are given an impression of an approach to the moon which eventually, its producers boast, will be on live television (if we all live long enough).

When the moon film first was viewed by its producers, they heard a whooshing sound which seemed out of place and they finally traced it back to the door of a washroom left open. The sound track was re-recorded

EBF crews went to France last summer and spent months shooting four pictures in the Loire Valley where the castles are still as they were 500 years ago.

By using actual location and with considerable help from local historical societies on the costumes and sets, the EBF crews shot authentic reenactments of Middle Ages activity, such as a typical day in the life of a knight. The difference between this and Robin Hood is the difference between fact and fiction.

Naturally the EBF library is beamed mostly at kids, although it is just as interesting to adults. In Philadelphia, WCAU-TV has given the films a focal point by hiring a 13-year-old boy named Bruce Vanda to comment on the films as they unwind.

THIS PUTS IT in the kids' own language. On 4:30 p.m. Saturdays he presents films from the EBF library along with props he brings from home or school or anywhere else he can pick them up. Any time he thinks it advisable, he interrupts the film and comes on live and explains what the kids have just seen.

He's known as the "Little Professor on Big Subjects" and has talked glibly on all sorts of subjects from elephants to the Renaissance. Either he writes his own stuff or the show's producer, Don Lenox, writes it, but Bruce prefers to write it himself.

"I find that if you write it yourself, you don't need a script, you just memorize it," he says.

He ad libs like a pro when he has to, and has never used a teleprompter. (Too expensive, he says.) "I have an out. I can always say, 'and now let's watch the film,' when I get hung up." (Which isn't often.)

Cottage Cheese Omelet Boasts Fluffy Texture

The French started the omelet on its way to culinary fame. Today, nearly all good restaurants feature this delicacy—and there are even some that serve nothing else.

But there's a trick to making a good omelet even better. To help the homemaker, home economists have developed a Cottage Cheese Omelet De Luxe by a method that is almost foolproof.

Cottage Cheese Omelet De Luxe

6 eggs, separated
1 cup (8 oz. container) cottage cheese, sieved
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons butter

Preheat oven to moderate temperature (350 Degrees F.). Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored; blend in cottage cheese, salt and pepper.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold into egg yolk mixture. Melt butter in large skillet; pour in omelet mixture.

Cook over medium heat, 4 to 5 minutes, until bottom of omelet is lightly browned. Remove from heat; place in oven.

Bake about 20 to 25 minutes or until omelet is puffy and top is lightly browned.

Remove from skillet to hot serving platter. Serve with Gruyere Cheese Sauce.

Gruyere Cheese Sauce

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon paprika
Dash pepper
1¼ cups light cream
4 (1-oz.) portions Gruyere Cheese, grated
2 to 3 drops Tabasco sauce

Melt butter in top of double boiler. Blend in flour, paprika and pepper. Remove from heat.

Gradually blend in cream. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture begins to thicken.

Add grated cheese and Tabasco sauce. Cook until cheese is melted. Serve hot over Cottage Cheese Omelet De Luxe.

Smugglers in Germany Foiled By Dog With Nose for Coffee

BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German government is warmly applauding one of its female customs officials for outstanding achievement in nosing out coffee smugglers.

The attractive brunette, fondly called Geisha by her colleagues, has built up a reputation as the most efficient coffee cop along the Dutch-German border.

"It is thanks to Geisha," said the official government gazette, "that almost no illicit coffee now crosses the border she patrols."

Being a specially trained 2½-year-old spaniel, Geisha just puts her wet, curious nose up in the air and follows the coffee scent.

She never fails. She has located coffee buried under loads of coal, wrapped in petrol-soaked cloths, and in all the unlikely places smugglers and unbelieving customs officials can think of. The government gazette describes her as "one of the most active and reliable customs officials in the employ of the federal republic."

With the duty on coffee about 50 cents a pound, the beverage has been one of the smugglers' favorite items. Geisha is one of only two dogs in the entire West German customs service trained to track down the fragrant contraband.

More Preaching About Hell Urged By Billy Graham

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — With more preaching about hell, evangelist Billy Graham declares, there might be less hell in the community.

Hell is an unpopular subject "but that doesn't mean we should ignore it," Graham Sunday told a Cow Palace audience of 16,200.

"We are too interested in our own lives, our own pleasures, our own amusements.

"We don't want to be warned of the dangers that lie ahead," he said.

"I warn you of future retribution. I warn you the day of reckoning is coming."

He described hell as a place where the punishment of a just God is meted out to the wicked, not a sadist's torture chamber.

But hell is an extension of the private hells men make for themselves on earth when they live wrongly, and will be "a place of pangs, torment and craving lusts that cannot be satisfied."

Graham said he believed in hell because the concept is necessary to restrain sin among men and to separate the wicked from the good.

Greatest Idea Since the Wheel

When the chuckling, wise-cracking and protesting have died down, public transportation officials all over the country will get down to serious study of an agreement between New York City's Transit Authority and the B. T. Babbitt Co. to swap rides for trade coupons.

Beginning July 1, three coupons from Babbitt products will be good for a free token to ride on Transit Authority subways and buses. The coupons will bring five cents apiece to the Transit Authority from the Babbitt Co., the equivalent of 15 cents for each free token.

This is the same as the existing 15-cent fare which the Transit Authority says must be increased unless there is an improvement in its revenues, meaning a substantial increase in the number of New Yorkers using public transportation. That is why the Transit Authority sees merit in the arrangement.

The Babbitt Co. sees merit, because it is putting on a major campaign to increase the sale of its products in the world's largest city and the ride coupon plan will be a widely publicized detail of the campaign.

It is assumed the general public will find merit in the plan because it offers a chance to get something for nothing.

What transportation officials will want to know is whether the number of riders will increase because that would produce a net gain in revenue. If it could be demonstrated in New York City that a way has been devised to lure back to public transportation a substantial number of the people who have been using private transportation, transportation companies would think it was the greatest idea since invention of the wheel.

Whenever the Time Is Ripe

A summary analysis of the bill being drafted by the Senate subcommittee on Labor has been distributed by its chairman, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Masachusetts.

The analysis pins down the prospect of a labor reform debate in Congress this year, sometime before Congress adjourns in August. A bill will reach the debate stage.

But that does not mean it will be assured of passage. Proposals to clean up some of the abuses that have flourished under unionism are overdue. There can be no legislation, however, until the time is ripe for reform.

The time will be ripe when senators and representatives have been convinced they are reflecting the prevailing opinion of their states and districts by taking a stand against abuses of unionism, regardless of reprisals by labor leaders.

It will be ripe when labor leaders, themselves, let it be known they have no desire to use their treasuries and their minority-bloc power in politics to punish members of Congress for voting to outlaw practices that were brought to light by the McClellan investigation.

It will be ripe when word is passed down from the top to the bottom in bona fide unions that have everything to gain and nothing to lose by a housecleaning that racketeers, extortionists, terrorists and ordinary thieves are not longer to be defended just because they call themselves unionists.

There are no difficult issues in the Kennedy analysis. The proposal described merely calls for legislation to end intolerable abuses by both unions and management. It would aim to make unions both responsive to and responsible to their membership. The whole thing could be put through Congress by a voice vote as far as making a decision between right and wrong is concerned.

Unfortunately, that is not the basis of the decision that will be made. The basis is whether or not representatives and senators who vote for labor reform will be subject to punishment in congressional districts and states where unions have strong political influence.

One favorable word from respected union leaders would do more to assure passage of a labor reform bill than a month of debate in Congress. There are no doubts about the abuses of unionism; the McClellan investigation removed all doubts. The only doubt is how legislators are going to appraise the politics of a reform bill in 1958, when a congressional election is in the offing.

Narcotics: A Crime Commodity

The alleged identity of some of the 16 persons picked up in a narcotics ring by federal agents in a series of New York raids as delegates to last November's crime syndicate convention in Apalachin, N.Y., is the sinister detail of the story.

Narcotics are a prime producer of income for the operators of organized vice in this country. The suspicion held by many state and federal police authorities is that the leading operators are in a conspiracy against public authority; that they do not operate as individuals but as a syndicate.

It is known that many of them meet periodically and that one of their recent meetings was at Apalachin. It is believed that they are held together by common allegiance to the Mafia, the semi-legendary band of murderers that originated among Sicilian bandits.

They systematically exploit certain favorite opportunities for making large amounts of money with a minimum of business risk—opportunities that arise because of monopolies that can be maintained without too much trouble. This accounts for their lively interest in narcotics and gambling.

It accounts as well for police authority's lively interest in what they are doing. They are not the ordinary run of bad boys who stumble into trouble by getting mixed up with bad companions. Their business is trouble and bad companionship, and it is international in its scope, with hundreds of local branches whose managers are merely employes of a syndicate that systematically preys on society.

Strauss: Victim of Political Fallout

It has not been made clear to the country why Lewis L. Strauss was marked for extermination by certain members of Congress. The secrecy that surrounds the Atomic Energy Commission, which he had served on since 1946 and has headed since 1950, makes an ideal situation for a quiet project of extermination.

As AEC chairman, Mr. Strauss became conspicuous for strong opinions strongly maintained against equally opinionated opponents. Because everything about atomic energy is a matter of opinion while the government feels its way in an unmapped field, this too made the commission an ideal scene for destroying an official who had rubbed too much fur the wrong way.

It is not happenstance that most of the fur belonged to Democrats, even though Mr. Strauss had been appointed originally by Harry Truman. He was the victim of one of those all-too-common partisan vendettas that are waged endlessly against the Eisenhower administration.

Unlike Ezra Taft Benson, who has survived the vendetta against him, Mr. Strauss had to be reappointed when his fixed term expired on June 30. Although President Eisenhower was willing to reappoint him for another five years, Mr. Strauss was unwilling to go through the ordeal by fire that awaited him at the hands of the inquisitors of the majority party.

It was easier to step out than to wade in and fight a battle he could continue only at the cost of hurting the Eisenhower administration and the AEC. His Democratic critics had made his position untenable, though it has not been made clear why they chose to drive him out of his AEC chairmanship.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

"Gentlemen of the Class of 1958: You leave these ivied walls to go forth into a world welcoming your attainments but this year you become members of an Arctic exploration group. Opportunity beckons but with frozen fingers. The personnel and employment managers function in a deep freeze. Even the office receptionist seems ice-bound.

"It is the baccalaureate custom to say the world opens its arms to you. But to graduate in a recession is a tough break. It is like entering the swimming tank with the water drained. Your Alma Mater hands you a diploma. But it should give you a NET.

"YOURS IS THE CLASS Nobody Buttonholes. You have had four happy years here. All you now need is a course in patience. If you took 'gut' courses this is one year when your error won't be immediately noticeable.

"The honor student won't have a much better chance than the boy who got his sheepskin because the college needed his room. For many years the eagle scouts of industry stood at campus gates. Students were scouted as early as their soph year. But not today.

The tycoons are more worried about their own future than yours. I fear, gentlemen, you go forth to hear, 'Don't call us; we'll call you' — 'If anything turns up we'll notify you' — 'Wait 'til next year.'

"Even the prospect of marrying the tycoon's daughter is remote. The boss has the joint heavily guarded against an extra plate at the family table. His stare is glassy. It looks like a year when even the lifeguard racket will be hard to enter and when it won't help much if you have won honors in college golf. The boy who played in the school band has an advantage. He may get a job in some TV musical. If he can sing badly and do a number with the guitar so much the better.

"TO SUM UP, I fear your sheepskin will be about as helpful as a used kidney plaster or a wrong laundry check, for the current season. But don't be discouraged. You still have your hi-fi records and predictions the slump is scraping bottom.

"One word to the boy who isn't here and had to take the senior year over. He will at least eat regularly at dad's expense and may need fewer transquilizers. Good luck, gentlemen of fifty-eight. And take comfort in the fact that the Dean and faculty are not feeling any too secure."

IN FRANCE the big question is can the French stand a government that governs?

An embalmers' strike is threatened in New York. It would be the height of something or other if a man on the way to his last resting place couldn't cross a picket line. And when the banners read, "This Funeral Unfair."

Biggest Attraction in Town

The Poor Railroads

By Frank Tripp

Nobody can claim more affection for railroads than this chronicler. He loves railroads; the snorting old ironhorse most, but he'll speak up for the Diesel too.

My grandfather ran an engine into Boston in 1836, when railroads were six years old. His son, my father, was a locomotive engineer for 52 years. I wanted to be one too but my father steered me off, because:

His was a strange philosophy for 1898. He thought that railroaders had seen their best days. His pessimism was 60 years early, but could he have been prematurely prophetic of 1958?

ON MY LAST TRAIN ride I visited with a worried railroader who is saying the same things that Pop said way back then. Railroaders have been saying it through every generation. Today it comes nearest being true.

While we send billions overseas to ingrates, some to build them railroads, we are destroying our own. The men who know how to run our railroads are not running them.

Government regulates their operation, constructs their income, thrusts them into deficits, ignores their need for relief; hampers them, helps their competition.

A government and nation that at all times, particularly in war time, are as domestically dependent upon railroads as upon the Pentagon.

WE ARE reaching for the moon while our railroads go to pot. We vote for the amateurs who are doing it—railroaders too—and fall for the humbug "something for nothing" which railroads, disproportionately, are overtaxed to help pay.

Politics and greed for taxes threaten to fumble the railroad situation, with deaf ear to the country's most imminent transportation problem, until the only out will be government operation of railroads. It seems almost a plot.

Which would be, not a step, but a veritable lunge toward an end of our boasted free enterprise system.

Another Washington controlled rat hole for taxpayers' money, a political football and pork barrel, a bonanza of patronage and jobs that would leave you and me to make up the billion in taxes (both local and state) now paid by railroads, plus confiscatory rates to keep the faithful over paid and the incompetent on the payrolls. That is the history of every government usurpation of private business.

On this score, I remember Pop again. He was a Massachusetts Democrat, than whom no Democrat is "democrater." He was pensioned when came World War I, but was called back by the war-time government-run railroads to help ease the man shortage, and was stationed at a railroad crossover.

He was 76 when he got his first signalman's pay check — $88 for two weeks, very high pay then. He showed it to me in disgust. "Why, Pop, that's pretty swell," I told him. What do you think he said?

"Boy, that's more than I got for years for pulling the best trains that ever ran over that crossover. Railroads can't live on that kind of pay for sitting on your fanny. The only work about it is keeping awake. This guy McAdoo is going to ruin the railroads."

Resentful and grieved, the old fellow never again voted the national Democratic ticket as long as he lived.

Some of those old-timers' concern for the source of their livelihood wouldn't hurt the railroads if more of it existed today.

But there isn't much choice between parties any more. Freedom lovers who care, have got to get down to cases, to candidates who wheedle their votes.

Railroaders could do themselves — and their country — no greater service than to get in and pitch for the solvency of their paymaster.

And that goes for every man who works for a living. An empty treasury can't feed even a canary.

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By George Lichty

"Is chewing out comrade agent for spending time finding out U. S. topmost secret! . . . Is what good ACTUAL price of new car doing us? . . ."

Daily Bible Thought

"For this is the message that ye have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another." I John 3:11. This commandment of Christ epitomizes all the law and the prophets. We are told to love even our enemies. Unchristian lands have slaughtered prisoners by thousands. They have treated their prisoners with abysmal cruelty. Christianity has taken all the profit out of war. If we must feed our conquered enemies and put them on their feet at our expense what profit remains in war save a clearly defensive war?

Plenty To Talk About

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON — When President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan get together here this week they'll be talking about a couple of other fellows: French Premier de Gaulle and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Although Khrushchev wants a summit conference, it wouldn't be much without De Gaulle. Since he's been in power only a week and has plenty of troubles at home, it isn't certain De Gaulle could attend or would want to.

And he might be unpredictable if he got there. Needing all the French unity and respect he can get, he couldn't afford any sign of me-tooism. The French might take it for weakness.

BUT EISENHOWER and Macmillan have more at stake in De Gaulle than a summit meeting. All North Africa may turn against the West unless he produces an Algerian solution which both the French and the Moslem nationalists can accept.

There's something else for Eisenhower and Macmillan to think about, even though the feeling in Washington at the moment seems to be that De Gaulle will keep France glued to its Western alliances:

If he begins to lose strength in France, there's no telling what retreats or concessions he may make to France's conglomeration of political parties to save something of his plans and his prestige.

NO DOUBT Eisenhower and Macmillan will look relaxed when they pose for pictures at the White House. But there isn't much for them to be relaxed about.

There's the growing hostility to the West in the Middle East. The riots in Lebanon are an example. And crafty Khrushchev is a pretty puzzle all by himself.

He's using trade and aid with the backward countries to get a Soviet foothold. And now he wants more trade with the West — particularly the United States — for another reason: to build up Soviet industry.

Macmillan and the British want more Soviet trade. But so far the official reaction in Washington has been pretty negative.

TWO THINGS would strengthen Khrushchev's grip at home: disarmament or more machinery, either of which would enable him to provide more consumer goods.

It's doubtful he wants disarmament, since it would be tougher to keep the satellites in line or pressure the Soviet neighbors. So his best bet for more consumer goods seems to be more trade.

It's equally doubtful this country could afford — for military and economic reasons—to reach any real disarmament agreement either. For two reasons:

1. Any weakening of Western military strength would let the Soviets increase their pressure, internal and external, on those around them.

2. With this country putting around 40 billion dollars into defense — and still unable to wipe out the recession — it doesn't take much imagination to see what a big cut in defense spending would do here.

Nevertheless, Eisenhower, Macmillan and Khrushchev have to spend a lot of time talking disarmament.

• If they ever do get to the summit, the most that seems likely to come of it is some lessening of tensions but no major solutions.

Class Reunion

By Truman Twill

By the time you will be reading this, as people say in the notes they leave behind when they can't take it any more, I'll be gone—to another class reunion.

Out of consideration for readers who would prefer not to know the truth, the number of the reunion will not be given. But it is obviously not one of the lower numbers.

Class reunions are fun for awhile. They are like running into old friends and cutting up old touches and capers. But eventually they cease to be fun and become ritualistic gatherings of survivors, like meetings of those gruesome "Last Man" clubs.

The class reunions I have attended recently have been ritualistic gatherings. This particular one will be more so than before, which is why it seems a good idea to write about it in advance. Afterward, there won't be much to say.

But beforehand one wonders about the cutups, the flirts, the pranksters, the prettiest girl in the class; the boy voted most likely to succeed, the students who made the dean's list and the football heroes, such as they were at my unsubsidized place of education.

One thinks about the old hangouts, the singing by moonlight under the trees, the dances and the academic miasma of chalk dust and respectably decaying ivy-covered walls.

The mind sparkles with flashbacks of memorable episodes — the tussles between freshmen and sophomores, the solemnity of graduation exercises, the escapades and the triumphs and tragedies of higher learning as they unfolded during four years that proved to be more memorable than any other four years that came either before or afterward.

A comtemplative reunioner remembers Fergie and Florence and Turk and Teresa and how they looked and what they said. He remembers Prexy and Coach and Gown and Town. He wonders if the Glee Club really sounded that good when it sang Dvorak's "Going Home" from "The New World Sympathy" and whether Butch really threw the javelin as far as he is supposed to have thrown it.

He thinks of bull sessions and the profound wisdom they generated, much of which has been misguiding him ever since. He wonders if Sherm said the funny things he was credited with saying and if Bob really did carry a torch for that whatshername until the light went out.

He thinks about rules that were broken on risk of expulsion and the satisfaction of getting away with what were held to be heinous crimes. He recalls kindnesses by teachers and administrators that could be attributed only to their good will — and he works up such a glow of reminiscence he is not prepared for the shock of discovery that these things now belong to a half-dry generation of upstarts who are not worthy of the youth that has been bestowed on them.

The ones who were worthy, on the other hand, have become so preoccupied with other matters that one wonders what good it ever did them to have lived like kings and queens, because to all intents and purposes, they are just a bunch of humdrum middle-aged commoners like yourself whose recollections of what it was like to be young in a happier time are not to be trusted.

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — "One of the permanent results of this war is that Great Britain and the United States will never again misunderstand one another," declared Attorney General Frederick Smith in an address at London, preliminary to a concert given for American soldiers and sailors.

"SHOOT THE GRAY!"
The sight of a flying American flag causes many people to think many things.
Betsy Ross had her part in history. George Washington, Robert Morris, and George Ross asked her to make the first American flag. The five pointed stars were her idea. She and her daughter made all government flags for 81 years.
This Saturday is Flag Day . . . a day when we display the proud emblem of our country. How many would dare to wave it in face of the enemy? Barbara Fritchie, according to history waved the flag from an upstairs window and shouted to the Confederate troops, "Shoot if you will this old gray head, but spare my country's flag," she said.
Showing your colors can be dangerous . . . it can also be fun. Take Sunday, for instance, that's when you give dad the special treatment. Sunday is father's day, and he has a special dish. Ten to one . . he likes the way you prepare it. We don't know what it is, but we have all the ingredients.

Twain's Original European Reports Have Added Sparkle

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Book Critic

TRAVELLING WITH THE INNOCENTS ABROAD: MARK TWAIN'S ORIGINAL REPORTS FROM EUROPE AND THE HOLY LAND. Edited by Daniel Morley McKeithan, University of Oklahoma, $5.

Late in 1866 Mark Twain, 31 years old, a bushy-haired fellow with a droopy mustache, persuaded a San Francisco newspaper, the Daily Alta California, to buy him a European tour aboard the Quaker City and to print his travel letters.

Not many papers have struck such a historic bargain; out of the trip came Mark Twain's second book, "The Innocents Abroad." It was based very directly on the 50 letters, which are collected here for the first time within hard covers.

A superb book came out of them; by themselves they make a superb book. The question is, how much did Mark Twain polish, and did he do it well? He felt that for book publication he needed to tone down his exuberance, and be more tender toward religious susceptibilities; he believed eastern readers more effete than western; and a new wife, Olivia—whose brother he met aboard ship — breathed down his neck while he revised.

Opinions are divided on the comparative merits, but my own is, that his second try made no major improvement on his source, that he often weakened instead of polishing, and that he omitted some really hilarious passages—like the one about seeing the "Barber of Seville" in Spain and hoping to meet "Two Gentlemen of Verona," or about the beautiful women of Genoa with 180 of whom he said he fell in love on one evening in the park. Time after time he eliminates a colorful word because someone may think it an offensive one, he gnaws away at his own genius, he chips it off bit by bit.

There's something deadly about having readers in mind, or a shapeless unidentifiable public, or editors, or even a sweet young wife. This book, helpfully edited, is invaluable testimony to the nature of the man and his creative powers.
